ROBBING CAR

Frederick Zeimeran of Philadelphia Victim

WAS RAILROAD EMPLOYEE

Many Valuable Consignments Had Been Missed Recently and Policeman Was Set to Watch Last Night.

Philadelphia, May 14.—The attempt of the Pennsylvania railroad to discover who was robbing the cars of their trains in this city resulted in the killing of one of their own employees, Frederick Zeimeran, this morning. Zeimeran was caught in the act of looting the car of the Adams Express company and he was shot down by a policeman as he was trying to escape capture. The officer has been detailed to watch the cars since the express company had missed large consignments of valuable goods recently. Zeimeran died soon after receiving the bullet from the policeman's weapon.

AFTER FIGHT WITH PUPIL

Principal Bemis of Norwell, Mass., Is Asked to Resign.

Norwell, Mass., May 14.—Because he entered in a fight with Edwin Osborn, one of his pupils, principal E. R. Bemis of the Norwell high school has been asked to resign. Mr. Bemis absolutely refused to do so when approached by Supt. of Schools J. S. Hayes until he has had a hearing before the school board.

At first the school board, who had recommended his resignation, refused to grant a hearing, but after much persuasion they set Monday afternoon as the time when they would have the matter aired.

It appears that Osborn was asleep with his head on his desk when the principal took him by the shoulder and told him he must sit up. Osborn evidently objected to the order, for he swung at the principal with his right arm.

The principal retaliated and a fight was soon in progress. The pupils were getting the worst of the argument when Osborn's friends among the class rushed to his rescue. The screams of the girls in the classroom brought submaster Scott Osborn to the scene and he finally managed to extricate the principal from the struggling mass on the floor.

WAR ON NIGHTRIDERS.

Soldiers to Stop Outrages, If Necessary.

Waverly, Tenn., May 14.—Judge Cook yesterday fired a bombshell into the night riders' camp of Humphreys County when he stated that he intended to put a stop to the depredations if he had to secure a regiment of soldiers to patrol the district. He said that if he had accepted the first verdict of the jury he would have been compelled to enforce the sentence of death on all the defendants on trial, as there were no grades of punishment under the Ku Klux act.

He was steadfast in the opinion that he did not have any right to release the defendants on bail under indictment for violating the Ku Klux statute, but his present intention was to release all the men but two upon their own recognizance and make them responsible for all lawlessness committed in the night rider district. The state's lawyers have prepared a written motion to present to the court demanding that the death penalty be inflicted upon the fourteen defendants on trial. The state will insist that Judge Cook was in error in releasing the jury for the second time after the defendants were declared guilty.

Nightriders Hang a Man Who Helped Indict Their Kind

HE WAS PROMINENT MAN

Mansfield Harlessen of Union City, Tenn., Taken From His Bed Last Night. His Body Was Found This Morning.

Union City, Tenn., May 14.—Probably because he was a member of the grand jury which indicted one hundred nightriders recently, Mansfield Harlessen, a prominent farmer was hanged last night. He was taken from his bed by a party of men who are supposed to be nightriders or their sympathizers, and his body was found this morning.

Mr. Harlessen, following the report of the special grand jury on the nightriders' cases, has been threatened with injury or death many times, and it is supposed that his murder last night is the consummation of one of the threats. ## GIFTS TO NORWICH.

Maxwell Everts Adds to the Equipment of Institution.

Northfield, May 14.—Norwich University was presented the past week with 12 mauls and twenty-four single sticks by Hon. Maxwell Everts of Windsor. These are to be used for instruction in mounted fencing and broadsword exercises, training in which will begin this week. The equipment is an excellent one and the authorities of the university are delighted with the gift.

Mr. Everts is also presenting the university with three silver cups to be competed for by the cadets, who are taking the instruction in horsemanship. It is planned to have this competition at the State Fair this fall, and the three contests for which the cups will be given will be as follows:

Low Reach: Picking up a handkerchief from the ground at a gallop.

Mounted Fencing: With the single.

Mounted Wrestling: A bareback contest, each of the contestants endeavoring to unseat his opponent.

The award of these cups will add greatly to the interest in the horsemanship and should prove one of the most attractive features of the Norwich exhibit at the State fair.

It is further evidence of his deep and enthusiastic interest in the mounted instruction at Norwich, Mr. Everts has written Commander Chapman that eventually he hopes to mount the entire cadet corps at his own expense.

It is the plan to purchase some Morgan horses for this purpose and this Norwich will have a public interest in the "Scotch Greys" and the "Black Horse Troop."

PAROONS MODEL PRISONER.

Windsor, May 14.—William Foy of Armagh, Ireland, who was convicted of horse stealing in Windsor county in January, 1908, and sentenced to from 3 to 3½ years and has been in the Vermont State prison here since that time under the name of Harry Verner, was taken to Boston yesterday by Supt. W. S. Lovell. He has been pardoned by Gov. George H. Prouty and this afternoon will be put aboard the steamship Pennsylvania, bound for Queenstown and his native land.

Foy has been a model prisoner and it was through the efforts of brothers in Latague, Que., who furnished his passage money that he was released by the Governor. His father is a minister of the Established Church in Ireland and the young man had an excellent bringing up. His down fall is attributed to the evil influence of strong drink. Foy has a college education and served seven years in the English army, 2½ years having been service in the Boer War in South Africa.

BRATTLEBORO WATER COMPANIES MERGE

Into the Brattleboro Waterworks Company With Capital Stock of $400,000—Papers Were Filed Today.

At the secretary of state's office in Montpelier today papers were filed merging the Brattleboro Lake Water company and the Chestnut Hill Reservoir company of Brattleboro into the Brattleboro Water Works Company, at a capitalization of $400,000. The par value of stocks is set at $100. The directors of the new concern are George E. Crowl, M. L. Crowl, L. B. Crowl, T. V. Crowl and C. B. Crowl.

These are the two private water companies, the attempted purchase of which has caused a turmoil in Brattleboro for some time. The matter of purchase came up at a recent town meeting, and the proposal was turned down as the voters considered that $400,000 was too big a price to ask for the systems. Brattleboro is supplied almost entirely by these companies.

They will stop at the Revere house. They will visit Bunker Hill monument, the Charlestown navy yard, state house, Harvard college, Concord and Lexington and the best-known historic building in the city, returning to St. Johnsbury by the night train Saturday. ## FOREST RESERVATION.

State Will Have One in Washington County First.

Burlington, May 14.—State Forester A. F. Hawes hopes that ultimately Vermont will have a forest reservation in each of the fourteen counties of the state.

The first of these will be in Washington county, doubtless it being a central location. Mr. Hawes has recently returned from that part of the state, where he inspected land with a view to purchase by the state. No purchase will be made until the late in the summer and then a tract of about 500 acres will be secured. Other and larger reservations will be acquired when money for that purpose is obtained.

State makes now an annual appropriation for the forestry bureau of $5,000. Most of this goes for the nursery expenses.

Additional numbers on the program of the Western Vermont Congregational club at Proctor Friday afternoon are: "Vermont as Home Missionary Ground," the Rev. C. H. Smith of Pittsford; "The Church Christianizing Its Own Community," the Rev. G. S. Mills of Bennington.

Three County Conventions in Barre To-day

THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Christian Endeavor Union and the Good Templars in Town.

Three organizations held their county or district conventions in Barre to-day, being the Washington county Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Washington county Christian Endeavor Union, and the district Good Templars. The first-named met at the Heddington Methodist church, the C. E.'s at the First Baptist church, and the others in the Seamount hall on North Main street. The W. C. T. U. has been in session since yesterday afternoon, and all will close tonight.

THE W. C. T. U.

Mrs. C. S. Richmond of Northfield Re-elected President.

To-day, the second in the 27th annual convocation of the Washington county Woman's Christian Temperance Union, saw a good attendance at Heddington church. Nearly all of the unions of the county were represented and most of the program was carried out as scheduled. The convention resumed at 8:30 this morning, with a prayer service led by Mrs. C. S. Richmond of Northfield, the county president. At the conclusion of the prayer service the minutes of yesterday's meeting were read by the secretary pro tem, Mrs. C. A. Bates of East Barre.

Then came the department reports. Under this head Mrs. Flora Beckley of Barre reported on the soldiers and sailors and the reports of the other departments were postponed until this afternoon. The treasurer's report was made and showed a balance in the treasury sufficient to pay the expenses of the convention.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then held. The officers were elected as follows: president, Mrs. C. S. Richmond of Northfield; secretary, Mrs. M. E. Nye of Plainfield; treasurer, Mrs. F. M. J. Guernsey of Montpelier. Mrs. Guernsey was elected in place of Mrs. S. J. Wiswell of Cabot, who has filled the office for the past 12 years and who declined to serve longer.

The appointive officers were as follows: first vice-president, Mrs. E. Denny of Montpelier; second vice-president, Mrs. Ellen Colby of Plainfield; auditor, Miss M. S. Watson of Montpelier. At the conclusion of the election a prayer service led by Mrs. E. O. Thayer was held, after which the ladies adjourned to the vestry, where dinner was served. The meeting this afternoon was opened with a prayer service and the time of the ladies will be taken up until night with routine business.

Yesterday afternoon was taken up principally with organization and getting the convention into shape to transact the business that had come before it. The committee to have charge of the different branches of the work of the convention were elected and reports of the local secretaries were received. The secretaries of all the unions in the county, with the exception of Cabot and Waterbury, were present and all made favorable reports on the condition of their unions.

The following heads of the various departments made their reports: Sunday school, Mrs. J. M. Nason of Barre; mercy, Mrs. Gertrude Wells of Cabot; social and red letter days, Mrs. S. J. Wiswell of Cabot; moral education, Mrs. Addie Waterman of Barre; temperance literature, Mrs. P. Brown of Barre.

The afternoon session was opened with a devotional service, including the singing of hymns. Mrs. O. H. Richardson of Montpelier gave a reading entitled, "Mary Daley at Home." The county president, Mrs. C. S. Richmond of Northfield, presided at both the afternoon and evening sessions and Mrs. C. A. Bates of East Barre acted as secretary pro tem. In the absence of its secretary, Mrs. Alice M. Nye of Plainfield.

The evening session was opened shortly after 7:30 with a praise and prayer service led by Rev. E. O. Thayer. The members of the various unions of the county were welcomed to the convention in a few well chosen words by Mrs. Fred Beckley. Mrs. Beckley extended the welcome to the delegates on behalf of Ivy Leaf W. C. T. U. of this city.

The address of welcome was responded to by Mrs. E. C. French of Northfield, who thanked the members of the local union on behalf of the delegates for the kind invitation. She said that she was sure that the welcome did not consist of words alone, as she knew the reputation that Barre had for hospitality.

Mrs. Margaret Hesse of Shelburne was introduced and entertained the audience for a full hour with a varied selection of readings. Mrs. Hesse is an excellent reader and has that presence and voice with which she is able to hold an audience almost breathless as it waits for the words to fall from her lips.

Her selections included, "Is It Nothing to You That Pass By?" selected; "Sally Ann's Experience," selected; "The Bell," Edgar Allan Poe, and selections from Longfellow's "Hiawatha." In the latter reading Mrs. Hesse wore the full Indian costume, making the reading of the beautiful poem even more realistic than it would otherwise have been.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Hesse's readings the session was closed with a hymn and the benediction by Dr. Thayer.

C. E. UNION.

Nearly All the Seventeen Societies Reported This Forenoon.

The annual convention of the Washington county union of Christian Es-

deavor is being held to-day in the Baptist church. The convention opened at ten o'clock with the county president, the Rev. Donald Fraser of Berlin, presiding. There were about fifty people present this morning, including the delegates and other visitors. An address of welcome was extended by the Rev. W. E. Braisted, pastor of the church, after which the reports from the societies in the county were heard. There are 17 societies in the county, all but three of which reported. The societies were represented by delegates and the remaining four reported by letter. The secretary, Miss Etta Graves of Waterbury, and the treasurer, Miss Henrietta Ingila of Barre, gave their reports.

The following committees were appointed to report this afternoon: nominations, Rev. W. E. Braisted, Miss Etta Graves and Mrs. D. H. Strong of Willamstown; resolutions, Rev. Donald Fraser, Miss Marion Stickney, Barre.

An address on the Junior C. E. work was then given by Miss Grace M. Young, the state secretary, which closed the morning session. Dinner was then served to the delegates in the vestry of the Congregational church. The afternoon session began at two o'clock, at which time the committees reported and the remainder of the session was devoted to addresses and discussions on the Christian Endeavor work.

The session this evening will begin at 7 o'clock and there will be addresses by the Rev. J. D. MacKenzie of the Presbyterian church, and by a former state C. E. president, F. R. Morris of Bennington. The convention closes this evening.

The opening session of the district Good Templars was taken up with the preliminary work. The session this evening will be open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended.

SOMERVILLE ACCEPTS.

Will Go Up Against Trembley in Match as Proposed.

In answer to the challenge sent to Bob Somerville by Eugene Trembley, Somerville states to-day that he does not need to "go back to the woods," for since he has been in Barre he has been up against some good men and Trembley has had the same chance, but Trembley knew better than to wrestle him at the weight Somerville wrestles at. Bob says that Trembley's agreeing to throw him twice in an hour and a half may not be a great feat to accomplish, as Trembley will be at least 10 pounds the heavier, but he is willing to let him try it. He says Trembley might beat him in five minutes, or he might wrestle the full time without getting a fall; but when Trembley comes off the mat the people of Barre, and also Trembley, will know that he has been wrestling someone. Bob states he will be in the best possible trim for the match and will try all in his power to beat Trembley and show the public that wrestling is not parlor play.

WILL "STAND PAT."

Is Belief of One Newspaper Reporter About Vermont's Senators.

The Boston Herald's Washington correspondent sends his paper the following gossip:

"The aggressive criticism of Vermont newspapers lately about the pending tariff bill have stirred some members of the delegation in Congress. Senator Dillingham, especially, has been taking note of these criticisms as worth heeding, and has talked with his colleagues about the matter.

It is not believed, however, that any of the Vermonters, either in the Senate or the house, will forsake their stand-pat legions. Both senators will undoubtedly follow the finance committee."

MADE A DISCLOSURE.

Respondent in City Court Caused Arrest of Another To-day.

Henry Andrews pleaded guilty to a subsequent offense of intoxication in the city court this morning and Judge Scott continued the case for sentence until May 31. Andrews was arrested yesterday on a warrant by Officer Hamel at a house on Third street, where he had been making a disturbance. Chief Faulkner was notified this morning by telephone that there was a man supposed to be sleeping off a jag beside the railroad tracks near Jones Brothers' shed. The chief went down on the electric and loaded the man on the next car and brought him to the station. The man is Frank Shields, who is a familiar figure in the police circles.

Andrews disclosed to the court that Napoleon Paquin furnished him with the liquor with which he became intoxicated. Grand Juror Davis forthwith made out a warrant for the arrest of Paquin. Chief Faulkner served the warrant on Paquin this forenoon and brought him into court on the charge of furnishing. The respondent pleaded not guilty and was locked up in the police station for a hearing to-morrow morning.

INSPECTED PROPOSED ROUTE.

But Trolley People Again Urged for a Delay in Work.

The city council and the trolley system owners went over the proposed extension of the street car system in the south end of the city, yesterday afternoon, and discussed the best location of the track, while the council at the same time heard the renewed protest by President Corry that the road is not in financial shape to make the extension. Some of the trolley representatives seemed to favor the loop around Circle street and return by way of Ayers street, although they one and all agreed that the company ought to be given time. No action was taken, but a report will be submitted to the city council.
